Hey! My name is Caio, it's a pleasure to write you Uasuki.

Today I am very happy to write this e-mail to you for us to know more about each other. Firstly I would like to share a little of our Brazilian culture. Here in Brazil we have several celebrations but the most common is carniaval that is a group of people that go to the street with costumes to dance and hear songs, also here in Brazil we enjoy the World Cup that is a Internacional Soccer event that happens every 4 years.

Another cool subject to be mentioned is the food here in Brazil. The most typical food in our country is feijoada (pork with black beans), brigadeiro (a small cake of condensed milk with chocolate and sprinkles), pão de queijo (a small bread with cheese) and others. I think you never heard about these foods, am I right?

Now i would like to ask some questions to you. In India, you guys have any iimportant Festival? What is the sport you enjoy the most?, What is your favourite food?, In India do you guys play football or Basketball? What is the most typical food in India? What do you do in your free time? Sorry if I asked too many questions, I am curious. So, I think this is all, I hope one day find each other.

Best

Caio

Hello Caio , It is my pleasure too.

This is Uasuki, From New Delhi, India

Thanks for providing details about The Brazilian culture, I am eager to know more. In India too, we celebrate festivals like-Ganesh Utsav, Dussehra, Diwali that is festival of lights.

1) Ganesh Utsav- Ganesh is the Lord of obstacles who wards off all obstacles that come in our day-to-day life. Mainly celebrated in Maharashtra and other parts of country too.

2) Dussehra- It is the festival of celebrating the good over evils celebrated for 10 days long in the month of October.

3) Diwali - Known as The Festival of Lights, celebrated across the country where we light lamps and candles☺Also eat delicious homemade sweets.

My Favorite dish is Chole Bhature (Fried Dough with chickpea curry)

And Gulab Jamun (sweet balls in sugar syrup)

Yes, we play Basketball and Football in India, But my favorite sport is Badminton. I am happy to share more information and answer all your questions if you have any more.... ☺

I am too curious to know more about you and your culture.

Good bye. Take Care.... ☺
